

ROOSEVELT NAMES FRIEND TO RAISE THAT DIVISION

Regis H. Post, "Recruiting Officer," Will Handle All Applications.

Regis H. Post, former Governor of Puerto Rico and a warm personal friend of Col. Roosevelt, was named official "recruiting agent" to-day for the division. It is understood the Colonel would like to lead into Mexico if trouble comes.

Mr. Post will receive all applications for membership in the division.
The Colonel has been so impressed with letters and telegrams from volunteers that it has been impossible for him to acknowledge them. Without consulting himself one way or the other, he has turned the matter over to Mr. Post.

PARALYZED AFTER DIVE.

New Yorker Struck Head When He Lungs Into Shallow Water.

KEANSBETTER, N. J., July 5.—Arthur Mantz, aged twenty-two of West Fifty-first Street, Manhattan, a member of the "Big Six" Club, which has its summer headquarters on Sea View Avenue, is in a critical condition to-day from paralysis, which attacked the lower part of his body and arms as the result of a diving accident yesterday afternoon.
The water was only four feet deep and Mantz struck the back of his head.
He failed to come up and life savers later brought him to the shore.

6,000 NEW YORK MILITIA NOW IN ONE TEXAS CAMP

building little frontier settlements. It is a military camp, streets thronged with soldiers, mounted officers, automobiles bearing officers and enlisted men and supply wagons, both motor and mule propelled.

The Seventh had a regimental parade last evening on the parade ground. This regiment is now in first class shape in respect to physical condition. All the tents are up, tables for meals have been provided in each company street, racks for wash basins installed and within twenty-four hours the Seventh will have one of the best sites in the country. Col. Flisk has given orders that there shall be no flies tolerated within the camp boundaries.

The Seventh first is not so well off.
Coming on ground only partially cleared, they spent many laborious hours making their home fit for tents.
Then they had to live in service dugouts or shacks which are about the size of a comfortable habitation for a New England dog. About one-third of the regiment suffered in dog tents last night because of the delay in the arrival of all the appertenances for the big tents. The Seventh first has but one motor truck, and while it is a big, efficient truck, it was not sufficient to transport all the equipment necessary for the comfort of 1,800 men.

The horses and mules of the Seventy-first arrived late last night, and it was possible to use some of the mules in hauling wagons from the railroad to the camp. But most of the animals were so worn out after the long ride from New York that they were of no use whatever. It will probably be a week after their arrival before any horses and mules from New York will be in condition for efficient service. On the other hand the men of the regiments on the ground are almost unanimously in good health and spirits and hundreds of them are doing manual labor the prospect of which would have appalled them a month ago.

The surgeons of both the Seventh and Seventy-first have been kept busy attending to minor injuries sustained by the soldiers largely because of unfamiliarity with such tools and implements as are used in preparing a camp. Axes, hammers, saws, sledges, picks and grub hooks become weapons in the hands of inexperienced young men from the city, and many a young man will carry back into civil life after the war is over some accumulated in making camp at McAllen.

GEN. O'RYAN EXPECTED TO REACH CAMP TO-DAY.

The Seventh Regiment will get down to camp routine to-morrow with reville at 5 o'clock; company drill from 5.30 to 6; breakfast 6 to 7.30; drill from 7.30 to 8.30; camp work for the rest of the day and drill from 5.30 to 6.30 in the evening. As soon as Major Gen. O'Ryan gets here, and he is expected about noon to-day, arrangements will be made for active field work, and before many days regiments of New York will be hiking over the Texas roads for many miles up and down and across this section of the valley of the Rio Grande.

Col. Flisk bought the only Ford car in McAllen to-day, and followed up this action by writing a letter to the editor of the New York Evening Post protesting against comments made by that newspaper about the condition of the regiment, the accommodation furnished to the men by the railroads and the like. As a matter of fact the Seventh is in excellent shape and, while the men are going through the strain of becoming accustomed to surroundings more than 2,000 miles south of New York, they are uniformly cheerful. When the rain is over and the hot sun gets on the job about fourteen hours a day the boys will have become more than half acclimated.

As for the Seventy-first, the writer has never seen a huskier, harder working or more cheerful lot of soldiers so early in a campaign. The Fourteenth, at Mission, has had a run of hard luck, and after three days still lacks complete equipment, but there is no complaint from men or officers.

The work of inoculating the men of the Fourteenth, Seventh and Seventy-first against typhoid fever and vaccinating them as a safeguard against smallpox, which is prevalent along the Rio Grande, in Mexico, is progressing steadily. In consequence there are many sore arms, and the typhoid inoculation has the effect of putting many of the boys on sick leave for twenty-four hours. Within a week these regiments will be the most.

The rain has been a blessing in one respect. Felling on cleared ground and soaking it, it has absorbed millions of the sharp spines of acorns and prickly pears which otherwise would have remained in the soil to torment the soldiers. The New York boys are having their first experience with cactus, and to their surprise they have discovered that the thorns will pierce leather puttees.

The Fourth of July passed uneventfully. The biggest event in McAllen was the band in the admission to the movie picture theatre from 10 cents to 25 cents. Indignation prevailed.
